SOUP

Soup is one of the less effective foods. It is very filling. But it does not take hold like corned-beef-and-cabbage.

Like our music, our drama, our opinions and our incompetents, soup is canned. They have built great palaces of delusion for it. There they coax it into the mixing vats, decoy it to gigantic caldrons and get it all stirred up with the idea that it's going to be eaten. Then they blight it hopes by pouring it into dark, gloomy cans and it sits on a shelf days, weeks, months, may be years, till somebody calls for it.

No wonder soup gets despondent.

We bought some the other day that—horrible.

TIMES FASHION DEPARTMENT

LADIES' APRON.

By Anabel Worthington.

A really good looking and useful apron which completely covers the dress underneath is a blessing which is not to be overlooked by the woman who does her own housework. No. 8388 is so well designed that it may even be worn instead of a dress if it is made a little longer. A good feature is the Russian closing, which is very convenient when one is in a hurry. There is no waistline but that marked by the belt, as the apron is in one piece from shoulder to hem. The square neck, finished with a bias band of the material, is comfortable and cool looking. The sleeves are a sensible three-quarter length. The apron pattern No. 8388 is cut in sizes 36, 40 and 44 inches bust measure. The 36 inch size requires 5 1/2 yards of 30 inch material, with 3/4 yard 36 inch contrasting goods. To obtain this pattern send ten cents to the office of this publication.

terms whether they are physically fit. You must present yourself for this examination, whether you think you are fit or not; even if you have only one leg, do not neglect to present yourself. You are not excused until you are examined and the board gives you a written certificate to that effect.

The same is true as to exemptions for other causes: It is up to you. You may be a postal clerk, or an employee in an arsenal, but you are not exempt until you have set out these facts on one of the official forms and had it made into an affidavit before a notary public and then presented this affidavit to the exemption board. Those entitled under the law to exemption must go through the same forms as those seeking exemption on the facts.

Busy Days Coming For Notary Publics. If you have a dependent mother, this fact must be set out on one of the official forms and sworn to and the affidavit filed within seven days after you are called before the board. If proof is required, you may have to get an affidavit of two neighbors, householders, and file this with the board within the next ten days following the first seven days.

There will be a land-office business in swearing to affidavits. The notary public will make more money than ever before. What will happen after you have filed your claim for exemption? Your various affidavits will be determined by the exemption board. After all, these boards have the say—at least, the first say; the second say is in the hands of the appeal board, which is another story. If you seek exemption on the ground of occupation your appeal must go to the district appeal board. Candidates for this new citizen army, who are anxious to get to the front, and have no home ties which should not be broken, need only present themselves for the physical examination. If this is passed, their names will go into the records as accepted rookies and in due time they will be called to live in one of the cantonment cities where their first training will be received. That call will probably not come before September or October.
